ADMINISTRATION

A Message to Students of Hughes Schools

The underlying philosophy of Hughes School is to train in democratic living every student who comes through its door. This means that there must be cooperative spirit and good working relationship between teachers and students. Only when this exists can every student and teacher develop to the maximum his or her mental, moral, spiritual, and physical qualities.

Throughout the years may this yearbook remind future students of the opportunities available to them in Hughes School, and also serve as a measure of achievements for those who have had advantage of the opportunities.

A black and white photograph showing a hand placing a book on top of a stack of several other books. The books are of various sizes and thicknesses, some with labels. The scene is set against a plain background. A large, dark, semi-transparent banner is overlaid on the top right of the image, containing the word 'CLASSES' in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters. The overall composition is clean and focused on the act of organizing or adding to a collection of books.

"Victory in Our Hearts . . ."

. . . was the theme of the day as Queen Nancy Pittman rode high atop a float of white and silver with the traditional blue.

She reigned over her court which was made up of two senior maids, Mary Elizabeth Stoddard and Sarah Ruth Nelson; two junior maids, Sue Bonds and Gracie Lee Carey; and a sophomore, Patricia Beene and a freshman, Paulette McCollum.

Mascots were Barry West and Letha Jo McLaugh.

Preceding the Marvell-Hughes game, Larry Lancaster and Denny Babb escorted senior maid Sarah Ruth Nelson on to the field.

Senior maid Mary Elizabeth Stoddard was escorted by Gary Reeves and Ronnie Hill, two senior Blue Devils.

Junior maid Gracie Lee Carey was escorted by Reuben Shidler and Leon Allison.

Another junior maid, Sue Bonds, had as her escorts Charles Bickerstaff and Sammy Nichols.

The sophomore maid, Patricia Beene was escorted by Larry Faulkner and Gary Burchfield.

Freshman maid, Paulette McCollum had Pat Beene and Sam Dillahunty as her escorts.

During the afternoon parade these five cheerleaders, Sherry Ashworth, Carol Ann Bonds, Linda Merriott, Suzanne Stobaugh, and Frances Shoemaker, rode carousel which read "Ride 'Em Round."

Here Queen Nancy received her flowers from Co-Captain Bill Warren after being crowned by Co-Captain Pat Bonds. Looking on is Barry West, the crownbearer.

Here is the complete court as they stood ready to watch the homecoming game which Hughes won 53-19.

Halloween 1961 . . .

Was as usual a festive occasion.

Highlight of the evening the announcing of the names of senior high royalty winner.

Early in the evening the visitors stopped for barbecue.

To get into the spirit they bought souvenirs.

Then some tried their luck at the wishing well.

Others tried the dart throw sponsored by the seventh grade.

The cake walk was a source of fun for many.

The Junior High library staff sponsored a novel "Octopus" booth.

The floor show was presented by the grades.

And waiting for the final big moment gave Mr. Pouncey and everyone a chance to rest.

Cheerleader Jackets

An addition to the uniform of the HHS cheerleaders is a jacket to be handed down each year.

Following County and District wins a state victory would have been even better. The Blue Devils lost their first game to Sparkman.

Members of the Pearl Russwurm FTA and sponsor, Miss Hazel Coleman, were hostesses to the faculty at a Christmas tea.

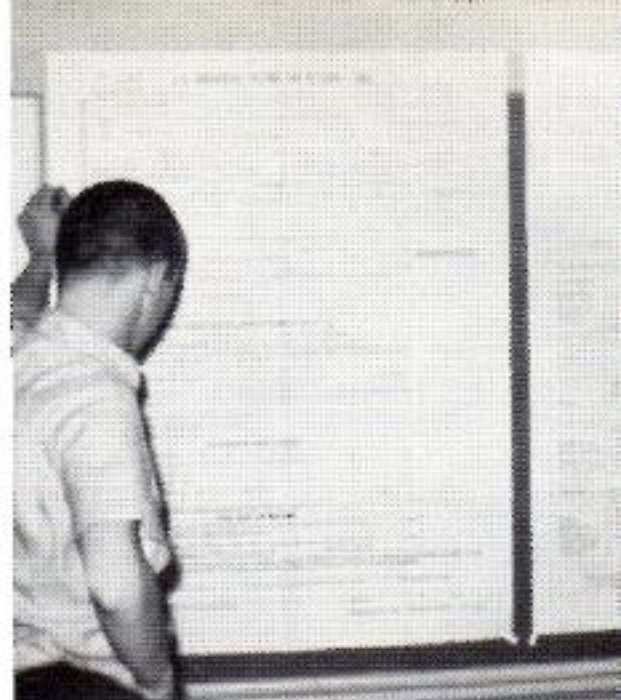

Each year just before the Christmas holidays at HHS former students come to visit and tell about their college.

A treat for some members of the journalism class was to hear "Dear Abby" as she talked to a group of high school students in Memphis.
